Diocese of Long Island
Commission on Ministry
Role of Companions in the Discernment Process

In the Diocese of Long Island, each Aspirant embarks on the formal discernment process in a Discernment Committee with a “Companion.” Each Discernment Committee is composed of no more than five Aspirants, five Companions, and at least two members of the Diocesan Commission on Ministry.

A Companion is selected in conference with the Aspirant and the Aspirant’s Rector or Priest-in-Change and should meet the following criteria:

- Willing to discern alongside the Aspirant by being a good listener, a keen observer, and an asker of questions (both clarifying and challenging);
- Supportive and encouraging of the Aspirant, but not at the expense of honesty;
- Willing to seek to discern with the other Companions and the DCOM Facilitators in the group whether the Aspirant for whom you serve as a Companion has the personality, flexibility of learning, and gifts for ministry that enable you to see him/her as a priest or deacon;*
- Willing to seek to discern whether the other Aspirants in the group have the personality, flexibility of learning, and gifts for ministry that enable you to see them as priests or deacons;*
- Able to maintain the confidentiality of what is shared in the Discernment Committee;
- Commit to attending all group meetings, which generally run from 1.5 to 2.5 hours. (NOTE: All members of the Discernment Committee must attend all meetings except the final meeting, which Aspirants do not attend. During this final meeting, the Companions and DCOM Facilitators assess the last few months and evaluate whether they in fact confirm the call to holy orders that each Aspirant hears.)
